

OnePierce Community Resiliency Fund

The Investment Arm of Elevate Health

OnePierce Community Resiliency Fund is developing healthy, vibrant and equitable communities in Pierce County by leveraging funding secured from social impact investors, community-invested organizations, philanthropists and public entities. OnePierce distributes these vital resources to community organizations addressing the social determinants of health (SDOH) – conditions such as employment, transportation, and education – that affect health and access to health care. All the funds OnePierce directs are intended to help people become healthier and more self-sufficient, and its loan program confers an added benefit: It generates income that is recycled back into the community.

As part of Elevate Health, OnePierce has an in-depth, data-driven view of the needs of Pierce County residents. It also has an insider's understanding of the capacity, challenges and opportunities experienced by community organizations. With generous and visionary investors and partners, OnePierce is poised to finance the organizations, services and projects that meet these needs and challenges.

Elevate Health: Services and Strategy

At Elevate Health, we innovate and collaborate to create purposeful health care reform in Washington state. Our mission is to build and drive community coalitions that transform health systems and advance whole-person health for all. As an Accountable Communities of Health (ACH) organization, we accomplish this work by addressing the core challenges of inequitable health systems and practices in our community, region and state.

Our mission has three interrelated arms:

WHOLE-PERSON HEALTH

Our Care Continuum Network and the Whole-Person Care Collaborative manage multiple care coordination services in partnership with healthcare providers and community organizations. With our partners, we help vulnerable populations in Pierce County address barriers to the social determinants of health while connecting them with multiple modes of medical care. The result is whole-person health for people and a better-resourced healthcare system.

DATA STRATEGY & COMMUNITY HEALTH

Working with our partners, we are building a sustainable Community Data Trust with the governance and capacity to ingest data from disparate sources to a single, secure, HIPAA-compliant and HITRUST platform. Bringing multiple stores of data together from our partners across Pierce County creates a 360-degree composite of an individual's health, needs and progress for improved care coordination. It also creates a snapshot in time of population health so that policymakers have the information they need to focus resources on overall community health in the region.

The third arm – our INVESTMENT STRATEGY – is OnePierce Community Resiliency Fund.

OnePierce: A Community Asset

OnePierce Community Resiliency Fund (OnePierce) aims to create a robust, strategic and sustainable community asset. With an initial investment from Elevate Health and the support of contributors, OnePierce distributes loans, grants and other funds to help community organizations meet programmatic challenges, explore novel ideas for helping their clients, purchase new equipment, and even renovate or construct client housing and other buildings.

OnePierce is a flexible, nimble platform that brings together operational elements utilized by financial institutions and foundations. However, there are a number of important differences that make OnePierce unique and highly effective.

A FOCUS ON LOCAL HEALTH CONTEXT

OnePierce is driven to improve health and well-being for individuals and populations, and it focuses on supporting communities and organizations in the region it serves.

KNOWLEDGE AND RELIABILITY

As a part of Elevate Health – and in alliance with Elevate Health's partners and data team – OnePierce understands the social services system in Pierce County in a way no other financial organization can rival. In addition, OnePierce has constructed a robust

Strengthen the Community

With your help, we can build comprehensive community care. Learn about our investment vehicles and who is part of the progress.

OUR CONTRIBUTORS

Socially responsible impact investors, such as businesses, banks and credit unions, alternative financiers and hospitals – We invest your contributions and employ them to finance loans for community organizations.

Donors, such as angel investors, individual philanthropists, family foundations and corporate grant makers – We direct your gifts to support health innovation funds and grants to community organizations.

Public entities, such as cities and counties – We manage and rapidly distribute emergency and other funding to community organizations.

OUR VEHICLES

Each contributor-funded vehicle helps community organizations and the clients they serve. Loans also build investor wealth and program capacity.

Multiple Loan Types – Help build housing or other facilities; aid the growth and expansion of organizational programs and services.

Grants – Help support organizational operations and build their capacity.

Health Innovation Funds – Help create pilot projects that test novel ideas in health care or social services.

CAPACITY FOR INNOVATION

Innovation is critical in meeting organizational needs in fast-paced and changing health and social services environments. OnePierce understands the importance of crafting appropriate, specific solutions to meet those needs. To do so, OnePierce offers multiple investments – including shared savings risk capital and impact-linked loan products – that connect an organization’s success with financial incentives.

FUNDING UPSTREAM HEALTH INTERVENTIONS

OnePierce supports community organizations in multiple ways. Funding may be directed at upstream projects, such as affordable housing – knowing that stable housing can help prevent health problems later. OnePierce can also help community organizations by funding novel ideas or everyday operations, or by partnering with local governments to distribute emergency funds. For example, OnePierce worked with Pierce County to manage the rapid distribution of $1.5 million in CARES Act funding to behavioral health providers in spring 2020.

Today and Tomorrow

OnePierce, formed in late 2018 as a nonprofit organization, is in a building phase. Over the next few years, staff intend to raise more than $10 million to benefit community organizations in Pierce County and the vulnerable populations they serve. In doing so, OnePierce will help Elevate Health create healthier, more equitable communities.

Apply to OnePierce

At OnePierce, we’re building a long-term, sustainable community resource to help organizations like yours bring its mission to life. Below are some of our basic criteria. If you do not meet the criteria below, please reach out to us so we may explore the best way to support your organization.

What are the basic eligibility criteria? Your organization:

- Is addressing the social determinants of health
- Maintains paid staff for operations
- Can produce financial statements

What are OnePierce’s priorities?

Today, they include housing, behavioral health and workforce development. Even if you think your project falls outside these categories, we encourage you to contact us about your needs.

What is the difference between a grant and a loan?

If your organization receives a loan, it will need to be repaid (with interest). Grants are not repaid.
